Jane Eberhardt: Blessed & Grateful

For Jane Eberhardt, life has always been centered around family, faith, and friends. Born on a farm near Kensal and raised in Edmunds, ND, Jane has spent her life surrounded by hard work, deep roots, and strong relationships. After graduating from Carrington High School in 1949, she chose a practical path—taking a bookkeeping job at the First James River Bank rather than attending college. "I just wanted to get to work," she recalls with a smile.

Jane enjoyed going out dancing and it was at a Friday night dance near Edmunds that she met her future husband. She later married Robert Eberhardt in 1951 while he was serving with the Army at Fort Rucker, Alabama. The two returned to Jamestown after his service and began building a life together—raising a son, Patrick, and daughter, Candice, and later welcoming a growing family of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

When their children were young, Jane stayed home to care for them. Once they were in school, she went back to work at the bank for several years before she and Robert purchased their own business, Eberhardt Oil, which came with a great perk for Jane. "I did the bookkeeping and answered the phone out of our home, and the best part was getting to babysit the grandkids when they needed me," she said. "That's why we're all so close."

Faith has also been a guiding part of Jane's life. After marrying Robert, she joined Trinity Lutheran Church in Jamestown, where she has been an active and faithful member for decades. Over the years, she participated in Circle and the Altar Guild, serving alongside friends and neighbors to support the church's mission and community life. "It's always been an important part of who I am," she said. "I've made so many wonderful friendships there."

Family, indeed, remains at the center of Jane's life. She now counts seven grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren—an even split of six boys and six girls. "I'm so blessed and grateful to have had such a good life."

Jane liked many sports, especially baseball, softball, and car racing. Eberhardt Oil sponsored a softball team for many years, and she and Bob had family and friends involved in car racing. One holiday tradition she remembers fondly from when the grandchildren were young is baking and decorating cutout cookies and having lasagna on Christmas Eve at their home—memories that continue to bring a smile to her face.

Jane and Robert also enjoyed traveling; taking many car, plane, and bus trips, and three cruises with friends. She also took a trip to Europe with relatives. After Robert passed away in 2009, Jane lived alone in her home for a short time before moving to an apartment. Independent and active, she filled her days doing puzzles, enjoying family gatherings, cheering on her grandchildren and great-grandchildren at their activities and attending local high school and college sporting events. But as her knee began to cause pain and mobility became difficult, Jane knew it was time to make another change.

"I realized I couldn't manage on my own anymore," she said. "I called SMP Health – Ave Maria to put my name on the list because I'd been here before for rehab and knew what a wonderful place it was."

Jane's transition to Ave Maria came with help from her family, who joined her in sorting through decades of memories—albums and scrapbooks filled with photos from family trips, holidays, and milestones. "I always made albums for every year since the grandkids were born," she said proudly. "I love to look back through them and remember all we've done together."

Now comfortably settled in her private room, Jane fills her days much like she always has—staying busy and connecting with others. "I really appreciate the activities they have here," she said. "I love the crafts, the games, the puzzles. There's always something to do, and I've learned a few new things, too!"

Jane also praises the care team who help make each day easier and brighter. "The staff are so good," she said. "One of the CNAs, Shane, is especially thoughtful—he always makes sure my hair looks nice before lunch." Shane even took it upon himself to switch out recliners in Jane's room after she mentioned the chair was a little too big for her. "It's the little things that mean a lot."

From therapy sessions to home-cooked meals, Jane says she feels grateful and well cared for. "The food is good, and the therapists are wonderful. Everyone is patient and kind. I just feel blessed to be here and to have the help I need."

When asked what advice she would give others who are considering a move to a care community, Jane didn't hesitate. "I'd definitely recommend Ave Maria," she said. "It's a good place. They take care of you, and you can still enjoy life."

Her words are simple, but they carry the weight of experience—proof that the care, compassion, and community at SMP Health – Ave Maria truly make a difference in the lives of those who call it home.

A Partnership that Keeps Tenants Moving:
Apex Physical Therapy & SMP Health - Ave Maria

When SMP Health – Ave Maria began exploring ways to enhance health and wellness for tenants at its assisted living community, a partnership with Apex Physical Therapy proved to be the perfect fit. Both organizations share a common goal: helping individuals maintain their independence, mobility, and quality of life. "Our partnership with SMP Health – Ave Maria began in early 2021, when CEO Tonie Stoen reached out to discuss providing therapy services for tenants," says Kyle Blumenshine, DPT, physical therapist with Apex Physical Therapy. "From our first conversations, it was clear that both organizations shared similar values and a mutual commitment to improving the health and quality of life of the tenants. Forming this partnership was a natural fit."

Care that Comes Right to the Door

What makes this partnership unique is that therapy happens right within the assisted living community—eliminating the need for transportation or travel to an outside clinic.
"One of the most impactful aspects of being on-site is the close communication we're able to maintain with the nursing team and staff," Blumenshine explained. "This collaboration allows us to quickly share any findings or concerns identified during therapy sessions, enabling the nursing team to respond promptly and helping create a safer, more supportive environment for the tenants."
Currently, a physical therapist or physical therapist assistant is on-site three or more days each week, offering flexible appointment times to meet tenants' needs. Each visit focuses on individualized treatment, monitoring progress, and coordinating care with the nursing staff.

Having therapy available right in the building has been a game-changer for tenants, according to Melissa Azure, Director of Nursing at SMP Health – Ave Maria Assisted Living. "Having physical therapy in our assisted living care community has been such a benefit for so many of our tenants," said Melissa. "It has provided them with the opportunity to receive needed treatments for pain, improved mobility, balance, and strengthening—right here in our building. Tenants don't need to worry about scheduling their own appointments, and they don't have to go out in the cold during the long North Dakota winters. So, not only is it helping to keep our tenants feeling better, moving better, and safer, but it's convenient for them as well. It's a win-win for all of us."

Results that Matter

The results have been impressive. Blumenshine estimates that since the partnership began, tenants have saved more than 2,600 trips to outside therapy appointments. Beyond convenience, therapy has helped tenants regain strength, confidence, and independence.

"Over the years, we've seen remarkable improvements among tenants—many have regained balance, reduced pain, and maintained their independence," Blumenshine shared. "We're especially proud of several tenants well into their 90s who continue to participate actively in physical therapy and remain independent in their daily lives."

Personalized Care for Every Tenant

Each therapy program is tailored to the tenant's individual needs, goals, and health status. Treatment plans focus on safety, independence, and overall quality of life through exercises that improve balance, strength, and mobility. "Some of the most common goals include improving balance and mobility to reduce fall risk, increasing strength and endurance for daily activities, and managing pain," Blumenshine explained. "Ultimately, the focus is on helping each tenant stay as active and self-sufficient as possible."

Teamwork that Benefits Everyone

Collaboration is at the heart of the program's success. "We maintain close communication with the staff and caregivers through regular check-ins and updates about each tenant's progress," said Blumenshine. "By working together, we're able to provide consistent, coordinated care that supports each tenant's health, safety, and independence."

He describes working with SMP Health – Ave Maria as both meaningful and fulfilling. "What we enjoy most is the strong sense of community and teamwork," Blumenshine said. "The staff is always supportive and dedicated to the well-being of their tenants, and the tenants themselves are inspiring—motivated, kind, and grateful. It's a privilege to be part of a team that shares the same goal of helping tenants live active, independent lives."

As this partnership continues to grow, both organizations remain committed to promoting wellness and independence for every tenant. "On-site therapy provides tenants with convenient, consistent access to high-quality care right where they live," Blumenshine said. "Families can feel confident knowing their loved ones are receiving personalized attention and that therapists work closely with facility staff to ensure safety, progress, and continuity of care." Together, Apex Physical Therapy and SMP Health – Ave Maria are creating a community where every tenant can move, live, and thrive—with confidence.

I am delighted to announce that construction is well underway for our Private Room Project. I shared during our groundbreaking ceremony that on the day the construction fence first was installed, the verse "This is the day that the Lord has made; Let us rejoice & be glad in it, Psalm 118:24" quickly came to my mind. I continue to feel this way each time I observe the progress the crew is making daily.

The Private Room Project involves adding 16 brand new private rooms and remodeling 16 semi-private rooms to private rooms. When the project is complete, rather than having only 28 private rooms, we will have 60. The addition also includes more offices for our current leadership team members who share office space, a beautiful multi-purpose family room, an updated nurse's station, and a Mothers' Suite. The total cost of the project is just over $8.4 million dollars.

Some individuals do not realize that SMP Health – Ave Maria is a non-profit, 501(c)3 charitable healthcare organization. We operate on a very, very tight budget each year. As you likely know, expenses such as maintaining competitive wages to attract quality staff members, utilities, food, and other necessary supplies only continue to climb, often outpacing our reimbursement. Therefore, it is critical to recognize the generosity of so many philanthropic individuals, which I know includes many of you reading this newsletter, who help us move forward with projects such as this one.

Thank you for understanding our needs as a non-profit organization. Most importantly, please know that no matter the size of the gift, it is always appreciated, and it will have a last impact on the lives of those we serve here at SMP Health – Ave Maria. It also continues to amaze me that many of our very own staff members choose to donate to Ave Maria directly out of their paycheck each payroll.

Thank you, dear friends of Ave Maria, for your unwavering support whether through donations, volunteerism, kind words, or your powerful prayers. We value each of you and thank you for helping make Ave Maria the special place that it is.

With sincere gratitude,
Tonie Stoen, CEO
